CLASS OF THE YEAR 5PM

Week

What's happening in 5PM with Mr Presley and Mrs Morrison?

It's been a very pleasing and enjoyable term with Year 5! Time flies when you're having fun. So far this term, our main focus has been on:

- English - persuasive writing and daily literacy rotations
- Maths - number and measurement (perimeter, area)
- Religion - the Catholic mass and scripture
- HASS - disasters (flooding, bushfires)
- Health - living a healthy lifestyle (foods and exercise)
- Science - animal adaptations (physical and behavioural)

Year 5 have just taken delivery of our new Dell Chromebooks which will allow us to have 1:1 computing. Thank you to Mr Fitzgibbon and Mrs Vella for your work getting these devices ready for us.

FROM THE Principal

A new role which I have only recently undertaken has been so incredibly fulfilling. I have learnt so much more about myself and others around me. Within this role I have seen first hand some very exciting things happening as well as frustrations, joys, celebrations and God moments.

Much mentoring has taken place during the time of this new role. When I first undertook this role, it felt like my heart had swollen with unconditional love, pride and awe.

I now know what St Anne must have felt when she became a grandparent.

In my lived reality it would appear that through the role of grandparent, parents have someone they can talk with about parenting issues and can trust to watch their children from time to time. Grandparents are able to spend quality time with the grandchildren they love and complete the circle of love. And in turn grandchildren have champions who love them unconditionally and are involved in their lives.

What I learnt from my relationships with my grandparents.

- Someone who offers unconditional love is a grandparent
- A mentor who can help with problems is a grandparent
- Grandparents provide companionship and someone to talk with
- Someone who will stand beside them is a grandparent
- Grandparents are a window into their parent's childhood
- Grandparents have a sense of adventure that is different to parents
- Grandparents show kindness, humour, and patience
- Grandparents have a zest for life like no other
- Are the holders of family traditions
- Possess the ability to laugh at oneself
- Can be teachers of life lessons

My only hope is that I can honour my grandparents by being to my grandson, what they were to me.

Anything in life can often be not easy and I'm certain in time I will face challenges with this role. Have you undertaken any new roles recently? If you have I would love to chat with you about your experiences and how you adjusted to new situations. Have there been God moments found in these new experiences?

A B Cs Of Student Success

C is for CHOICES.

According to Jim Fay, author of Becoming a Love and Logic Parent, giving children choices is more effective than making demands. He suggests...

- Never give choices if it might cause problems for you or anyone else.
- Give only two options for each choice, both equally okay with you. For example, Would you like peas or carrots? or Do you want to do homework now or in 15 minutes?
- If the child doesn't decide within 10 seconds, make the choice for him or her.

PRIMARY PARTNERSHIPS CLASS-LED ASSEMBLIES | Research suggests that there is a solid difference between parent involvement and parent engagement. There is strong evidence linking parent engagement with improvements in academic achievement for students of all ages. Whilst involvement usually focuses on attending events; engagement encompasses student learning at home, at school and in the community.

Therefore, you are all warmly invited to attend an aspect of engagement {Class-led Assemblies} which informs you about what students are learning in class. This year, classes will only be leading two assemblies – please see the attachments for further detail and place these dates in your diary.

OFFICE DISPLAY | Please drop into the office to dive into what year 1D have been learning. Thank you Mrs Dunn and year 1 for the wonderful display.

EFFECTIVE HAND HYGIENE IS VITAL | As the coronavirus (COVID-19) continues to evolve, it is important to remember that effective hand and sneeze/cough hygiene is the best defence against viruses and can help prevent the spread of illness.

Lead by example and encourage your children to:

1. wash their hands regularly with soap and water, before and after eating, and after going to the toilet
2. use alcohol-based hand sanitiser if soap is not available
3. cover coughs and sneezes with a tissue or the inside of their elbow
4. dispose of tissues in the bin immediately
5. if unwell, stay at home and avoid contact with others such as touching, kissing or hugging.

Check out the 20 second routine video for effective handwashing.

Sunday's Gospel Reflection

Matthew 17:1-9

Jesus is transfigured before Peter, James, and John

SCRIPTURAL CONTEXT

Gospel Parallels

The account of the Transfiguration appears in all three synoptic gospels (Matthew, Mark and Luke). The word, synoptic, means 'seen together' and these three gospels can be seen together because they have so much material in common. It is now accepted that the gospel of Mark was the first written as so much of it appears in the other two, while the gospels of Matthew and Luke both seem to have also drawn on another source of Jesus material (known as the 'Q' source). Despite the parallels, each writer uses the same story to convey the particular message of that gospel.

LIVING THE GOSPEL

'Listen to him!'

God's voice from the cloud claims Jesus as his Son, the Chosen One and then goes on to instruct those present – and we, the readers – to 'Listen to him!' For the disciples, this was a message not to get carried away with their own ideas about the Messiah but to listen to what Jesus was saying about the suffering he must endure and to what he was saying about true discipleship. Jesus tells us that to be a follower of his involves sacrifice, hardship and often unpopularity. It is this message we must listen to as much as the promise of salvation.

GOSPEL FOCUS

A new vision

Peter sees the appearance of Elijah and Moses as a confirmation that Jesus has come to continue the work of the great prophets of the past. Rather than placing Jesus in the old tradition of the prophets, the appearance of Elijah and Moses, together with the voice of God, is to endorse the new direction that Jesus' ministry is taking. Jesus' new vision for the world is informed by the relationships forged between God and the prophets of the past, but it is a vision of a completely different way of relating to God: a much more personal relationship that calls us to respond from the heart to those around us.

Prayer

Radiant God, the glory of your love shines in our lives.

Send us your Spirit to open our eyes and hearts to the glory of Jesus shining in the people and the situations that you give us.

We ask this in Jesus' name confident that you will hear us.

Amen

Second Week of Lent

(School week beginning 9th March)

In Cambodia, 1 in 8 people live below the poverty line.*

This week through Project Compassion we learn about Phany (pronounced Parn-ee).

Struggling to earn a living as a farmer in Cambodia, Phany was forced to leave her daughter behind in the village to take up construction work in the city.

Thankfully, through a Caritas funded program, Phany learnt new farming techniques which enabled her to get a better yield from her vegetable crops and to conserve water in her drought-stricken region. Phany's community also took part in training in health, nutrition, hygiene and disaster preparedness, arming them with better strategies to cope with environmental changes. Watch a short film about Phany's story.

ACROSS THE Curriculum

FOR YEAR 3 AND YEAR 5 PARENTS | Last week I sent home a note informing parents about NAPLAN online, and mentioned that if you wish to have your child withdrawn from the NAPLAN process, to fill out the attached withdrawal form. After printing the letter, I was advised of a rule change where these forms weren't able to be sent home to all parents, and that parents and caregivers needed to pick up the form from the school. I apologise for any inconvenience this caused! The newsletter last week contained the correct procedure for withdrawal.

If you wish to withdraw your Year 3 and 5 student from NAPLAN, the withdrawal forms can be picked up from our front office ladies!

Simple ways to help lift your child's self-esteem

One of the greatest gifts that you can give your child is a positive sense of self. Children with high self-esteem grow into happy and confident people. Building your child's confidence is not a hard task, in fact, you will probably find you are already doing a great deal to help your child feel comfortable and happy within themselves.

1. Think positive

Most of how a child sees themselves is developed through how they feel others see them. Do you have a positive or negative image of your child? Do you appear to enjoy spending time with them and value their opinion? How you talk to your child and involve them in your life plays a large role in how they feel about themselves. If you are always too busy to spend time with them or only pointing out what they do wrong, they will not feel valued and be unable to identify in themselves when they do something right. Focusing more on what they are doing well will encourage them to try harder and increase their self-worth.

2. Spend time with them

By spending time with your children you are letting them know they are valuable and worthy of your time. As a parent myself I understand that time is very limited. The time spent with your children does not necessarily have to be large amounts of time, but quality time. Letting the child choose the activity will increase their self-worth and improve their ability to make choices as they grow. Forgetting about all those grown up things we need to do and focusing on our children can also be very relaxing.

3. Give your children responsibilities

Giving your children age appropriate jobs around the house increases their feelings of competence and helps them feel valued within the family. Also, encourage your children do things for themselves. The more they are introduced to new challenges, the greater their ability to problem solve. You don't have to do everything for your child, even if it is quicker.

4. Be involved in their school life

By taking an interest in what happens at school during the day will help to show support and encourage good behaviour and effort throughout their schooling. Even the simple task of helping with homework shows your child that you care about their schooling, no matter how difficult a task this may be. Becoming involved in the school community by assisting in the classroom or volunteering whenever possible is a great way to create a good relationship between school and home. This relationship will help the child feel more confident in school.

If you would like to discuss this further or have any concerns regarding your child and their confidence, feel free to contact me at the school, or through email on donnetta_trannore@rok.catholic.edu.au
